

Gender Pay Gap Report

2023

INTRODUCTION

At Harper Macleod we recognise that our people are key to our success. We strive to be an employer of choice and create a diverse, inclusive, healthy safe and stimulating work environment that is recognised as a place of opportunity for everyone.

The diverse nature of our firm's business naturally results in a diverse workforce. We have many departments dealing with different legal specialisms and we have many non-lawyer colleagues supporting the legal services we provide to clients.

MARTIN DARROCH
CHIEF EXECUTIVE

I confirm that the data in this report has been calculated in accordance with the Equality Act 2010 (Gender Pay Gap Information) Regulations 2017.

REPORTING FIGURES

Gender pay and bonus pay gap reporting figures (% less than men)

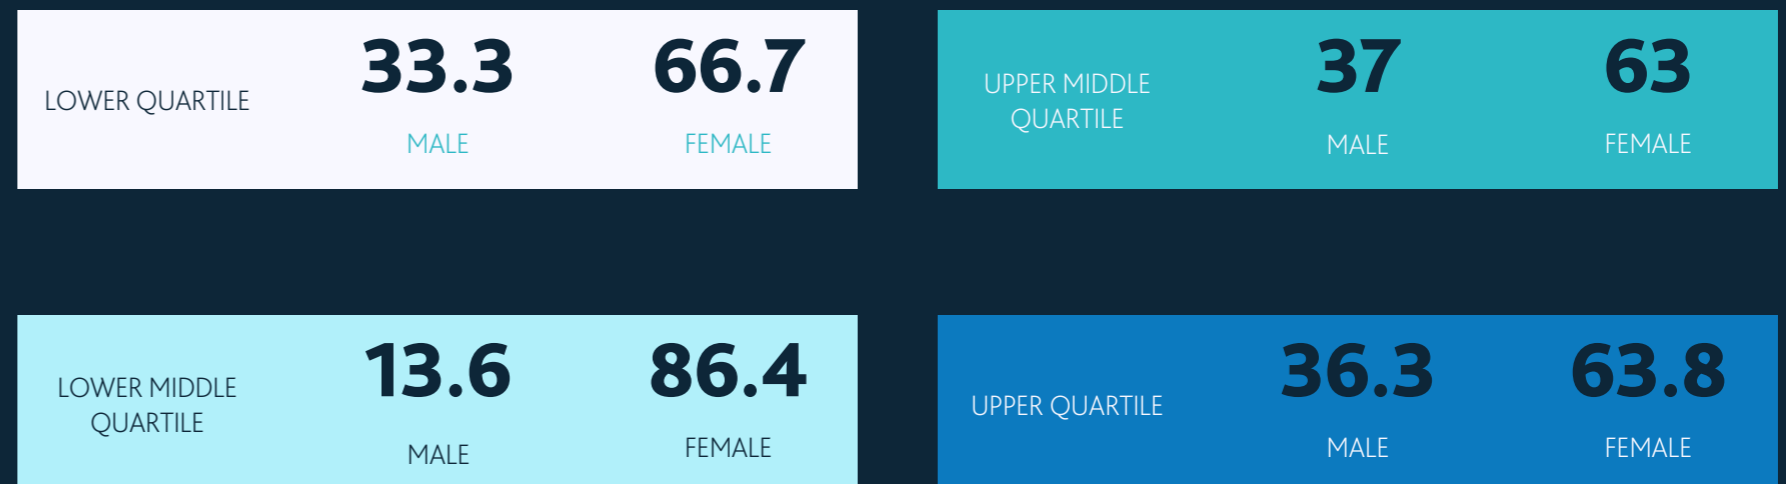

BONUSES

Proportion of employees receiving a bonus

PAY BANDS

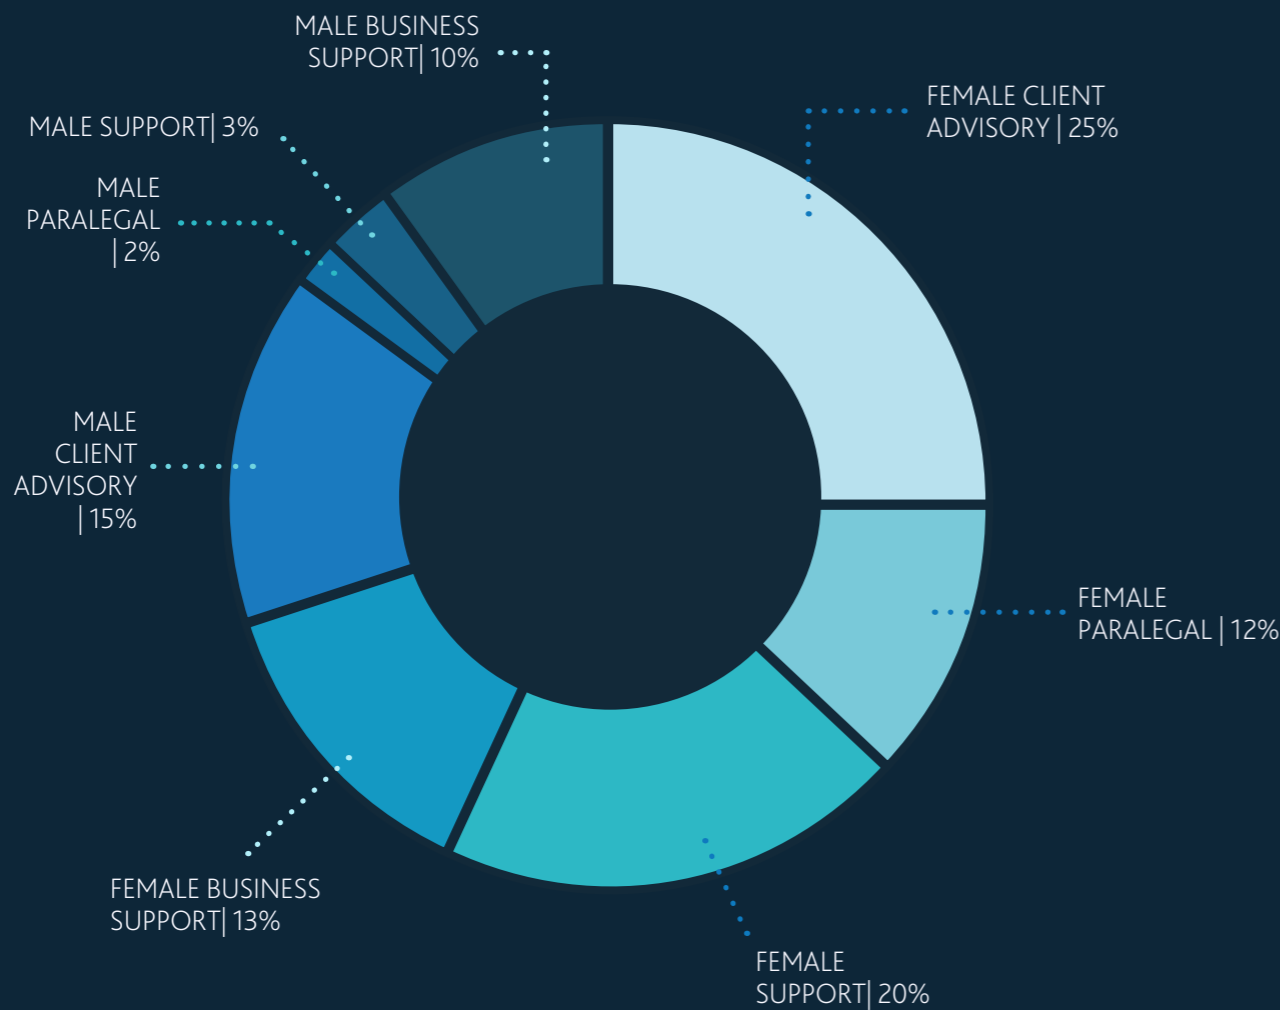

Proportion of male and females in each quartile pay band (%)

ANALYSIS

Similar to other professional service firms – our hourly pay and bonus figures are considerably affected by the high number of females employed. 70% of the colleagues listed for the calculations were female, the majority being in Client Advisory or support roles. This is reflected in our quartiles, where women outnumber men in all 4 quartiles – including the higher pay bands.

GENDER - ALL COLLEAGUES

GENDER - TRAINEES, SOLICITORS & ASSOCIATES

SIXTY TWO POINT FIVE PERCENT of our Trainee Solicitors, Solicitors, Senior Solicitors, Associates and Senior Associates are female

CLIENT ADVISORY

Gender pay gap is not – and is not intended to be – the same as “equal pay”. Gender pay gap does not reflect nuances such as length of service, PQE, additional pay for additional duties, or market variations, which can be an important consideration in recruiting in the legal market. We work hard to ensure that both women and men are paid equally for similar roles across the firm.

Further analysis of our statistics, looking specifically at all of our lawyers reveals a significantly different result to that.
